

Your academy going digital

Product description

ecadia™ learning management

ecadia at a glance

web-based Learning Management System

Your academy digital

ecadia uses advanced technology to manage classical academy processes. This enables you to offer better service to your customers and, at the same time increase productivity.

Established and innovative

Since 2004 ecadia has been the strategic learning and administration system for many well-known companies and academies. ecadia is being consistently refined. For example, today all managerial and learning functions have been optimized for mobile devices, such as smartphones or tablets.

Processes

ecadia supports the administration processes of your academy and the learning processes of your employees and customers.

Services

ecadia GmbH offers a variety of services with partner companies: from specification, configuration and customizing to operation and user training.

Technology

ecadia is based on powerful and scalable Java application server and relational database technology (such as Oracle). ecadia is available as a cloud service or on-prem.

Blended learning

In addition to classroom courses, ecadia supports virtual classroom, on-the-job and web-based training (WBT). For WBT a SCORM-compatible player is integrated. There are convenient interfaces to several virtual classroom systems.

Multilingual and multi-client capable

ecadia comes in several languages and allows on-the-fly editing of the user interface. This allows you to add your own terminology to ecadia. Due to the multi-client capability, independent business units can be mapped easily and flexibly in a central system.

Role-based usage profile

A field-proven and flexible role and rights model can be used to assign or revoke users access to individual system functions.

Configuration

ecadia's interface can be configured very easily and in many different ways. The integrated scripting language also allows extensive extensions to be made without any loss of updating ability.

ecadia supports your value chain

from the conception to the editorial and logistic processes to learning-target control and accounting

The ecadia process support

ecadia Explorer

In the ecadia Explorer, you can organize your entire educational program with dates, trainers and participants. In addition, participants and trainers can be booked into courses via drag & drop.

The ecadia Explorer: In addition to participants and trainers, the educational products within the folder structure can also be dragged and dropped. Just as you are used to from Windows Explorer.

Keeping track with ecadia

using extensive overview and planning tools

Resource planning via drag & drop

For the resource planning, the rooms or coaches can be displayed neatly in one-week or multi-week displays.

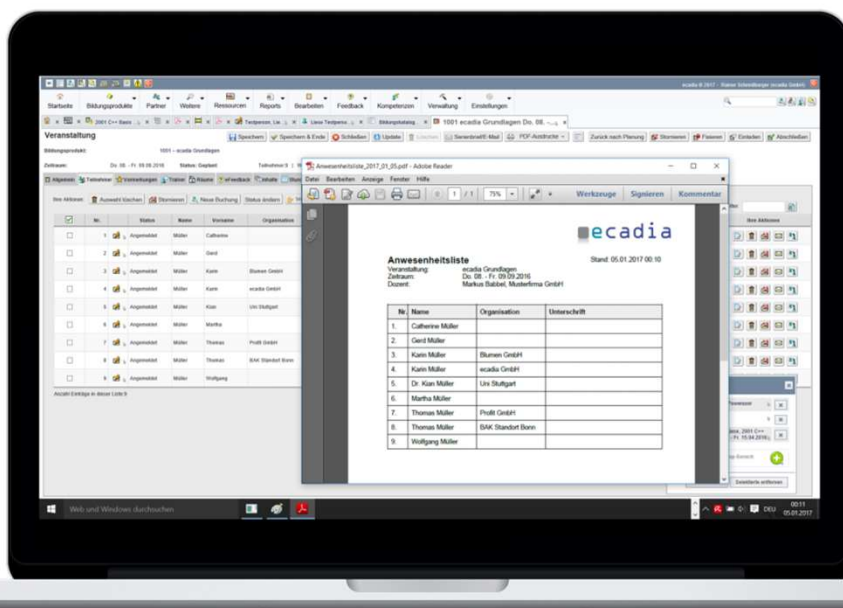

The special benefit is that the reservations can be moved easily via drag & drop function to a different time as well as from one room to another. All existing dependencies such as catering will be adjusted automatically.

The room and trainer assignments are clearly displayed in a planning calendar.

Correspondence and printouts

All printouts are configurable in ecadia. From the name tag to the invitation to the certificate.

ecadia for your customers

your customers can comfortably browse the event catalogue and book courses. In addition, up-to-date information such as teaching material in various formats or the route description are available online.

Forums

All participants of a course are automatically registered in the course forum. They can get in touch with each other and have the opportunity for expert discussions.

The ecadia user interface is optimized for mobile devices so that your participants can easily book their course with their smartphone or tablet at any time.

Event catalogue

Similar to the known search engines, free text can be used to search for events. Further, filter criteria such as target groups, forms of learning or date can be used.

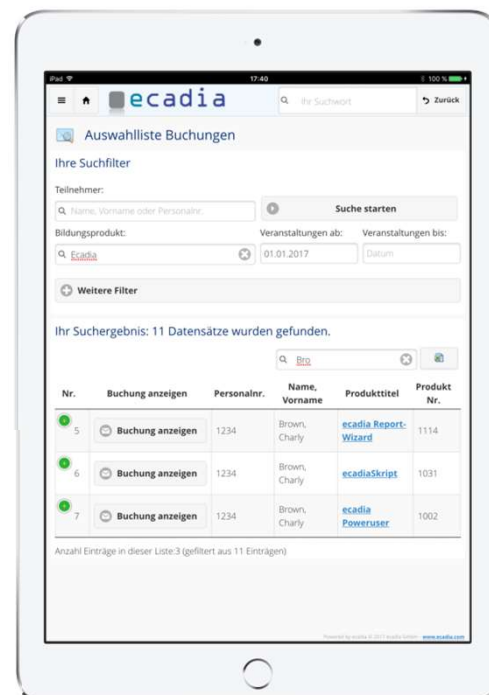

The organizer can activate his/her products for evaluation: Participants can then rate these products with "stars" and comment them. The rating is displayed in the catalogue and can also be used as a search criterion.

ecadia for HR managers and executives

convenient overviews of the educational history, current bookings and individual development planning

Planning and budget overview

As a personnel manager, you can query the current planning status at any time. You can book attendees for courses, register or cancel substitute participants. All activities can be confirmed by e-mail.
